

Clinical Guidelines

All patient vitals must be recorded every 4 hours during admission.

Medication administration must be double-checked by two nurses before being given to the patient.

ICU patients require continuous monitoring and vitals recorded every 30 minutes. Any adverse reaction to medication must be reported immediately to the attending physician.

Discharge is only approved after the attending physician confirms stable vitals for at least 24 hours.